Tested water: JANTAR Champion Sports Water-/-

According to numerous scientific research into human physiology conducted all over the world, water is essential for proper functioning of each and every creature on the Earth. It is water that makes for 50-70 % of human body mass, of course depending on the sex, weight or age.-/-

As a nutrition trainer I care about the health of people whom I help change their lifestyle. Thanks to many recommendations of specialists, confirmed tests and many certificates I am sure about the quality that can be experienced after introducing Jantar water to the everyday menu.-/-

My reflection after having tested this water is very good! (though I have some sad thoughts about passing of time). In our healthy lifestyle club me and my the other trainers teach people how to build the habit of drinking water. Never before Jantar have we though which brand to recommend. Another thing is that for many people water is simply water and there is no difference… The truth is quite the opposite. Already after just a few days of drinking Champion I got some feedback from one of our trainers who is now pregnant. She noticed that her bowel movement was remarkable and she would not dare to drink any other water for the time being.-/-

As I mentioned before, for us the well-being of our customers is of crucial importance. This is why such opinions will always be for me the best sign of HIGH quality of JANTAR products!-/-

The best assets of this water is its alkaline nature, its pH equal to 7.4 and the iodine.-/-

As a specialist in nutrition and supplementation and the co-owner of FitClub24Niepołomice – the healthy lifestyle club – I recommend Jantar water not only for active people but also for everyday consumption.-/-
